SALE OF WILLIARD SCHOOL COMPLETED

Memorial for Henry F. Jones to be Placed This Week by D. A. R.

With the simple process of the signing of the deeds and transfer of the school grounds last summer, the sale of the old school house, known as the Frances Willard school, district No. 2, became the property of the local Rock County Women's Christian Temperance Union. Those present at the signing of the documents were Mrs. Lucy Dickinson and Mrs. Sarah Greenwood, both of Edgerton, president and secretary of the county union; Mrs. O. W. Athon, president of the Janesville union; and Mrs. O. D. Bates and Mrs. Abbie Helms, members of the school house committee.

Walter J. Knapp, as clerk of the school board, signed the papers and received the money. In behalf of the other members, they are Matthew Dugan, president, and John Cribben, treasurer.

The sale includes besides the building, some of its contents, including old desk chairs.

The sale price was fixed at $225 by the auction, which took place on the school grounds last summer. Of this amount $22.50 was raised by popular subscription at the time and became the first payment. At the subscription the balance of $202.50 was pledged and it was this amount, together with what was raised in the sale, which helped to clear off the indebtedness, and make the purchase possible.

Plans Are Indefinite.
Future plans of the union in regard to the school house are as yet undecided, as the purchase does not include the grounds on which the building stands, and that plot reverts to the adjacent farm. Efforts are being made to have the county board of supervisors buy the land for the site of a new school house.

The idea is to have the interior restored, filled with mementos of Frances Willard, and make it a memorial to which people can go, and where special exercises can be held on appropriate occasions. The local union has secured a glass covered show case in which to place mementos of Miss Willard and already has a good many articles which are of value in this line. A unique ambrotype picture of Miss Willard and her sister, Mary, taken when they were young girls, was found among the effects of Mrs. Helen Emerson, Beloit, and was turned over to their keeping yesterday by Mr. Matheson.

Children Swear Faith in Mother Before Court

Decision in the civil action suit of William Bull, Janesville contractor, against his wife, Elizabeth, is expected from the jury in circuit court late this afternoon. The evidence was closed shortly after noon.

The attorneys, W. H. Dougherty, for the defense, and Edward J. Ryan and L. A. Avery, for the plaintiff, argued the case this morning.

Stand by Mother.
Repeating testimony of their father and other witnesses before the jury, the two minor children of Mrs. Elizabeth Bull came to her rescue and stood by her through all allegations during a long siege on the witness stand this morning.

Throughout the case yesterday, Mabel Bull, age 15 years, a high school student, and the son, George Bull, age 16, sat near their mother and listened to salacious testimony involving the morals of their mother. They heard William Bull, the husband and plaintiff, testify of incidents which he swore he saw peering through the windows of the home. They heard Ernest Wentland, a former carpenter for the plaintiff, substantiate the evidence of Bull. They heard other charges hurled against their mother when the plaintiff's attorneys presented their case.

Son on Stand.
The son then took the stand. He stated that his mother committed statutory acts. In several questions he flared up in bitter denunciations against the father.

"He never treated my mother right," he said. "I don't want to be in his custody."

Mrs. Margaret Kriebler testified yesterday for the plaintiff. She brought in the name of Olson several times in connection with events alleged to have happened in the home. Instead of Bull, which was given to the jury in the divorce agreement.

The action was started by the divorced husband to have the court determine whether the conduct of Mrs. Bull since the divorce action a year ago warrants her to retain the home, receive alimony and have the custody of the two children.

Children Testify.
When the defense took up their case, the children testified.

BELOIT AUTO CASE ON CALENDAR; HOPE FOR A SETTLEMENT
Settlement is expected to be reached in the action of Alonzo Dickerson against James Campion, both of Beloit, which is on the calendar for today in circuit court. This case was changed to come ahead of the Briggs and Helms case, and is expected to be heard after the close of the case against Mrs. Caroline Bull.

The court took action yesterday afternoon to have the contesting parties agree.

Damages are asked for injuries which the plaintiff alleges were caused when Campion ran him down in an auto accident in Beloit. The information charges that Campion drove away without giving aid to the stricken man. The amount of the damages is for the medical bill and for the time lost while the plaintiff was under medical attention, consequently unable to work.

CAN'T FIND BUYER FOR COUNTY BONDS

$1,350,000 Worth Repose in Safe—5 Pct. Interest Fails to Attract.

Rock county has $1,350,000 worth of gilt edge bonds for sale and cannot find a buyer. The money is urgently needed for the continuation of road work, especially for the extension of the Janesville-Edgerton concrete highway.

The reason why the bonds will not sell, according to County Treasurer Arthur M. Church, is that the rate of interest is at five per cent and was set at this point when the market was flooded with bonds and stocks netting from seven to nine per cent.

Unless money can be raised through the sale of these bonds, pending road work is likely to be held up. The county sold about $149,000, which was used on 1920 work.

"There is no better security in the world than behind those bonds," said the county treasurer. "The wealth of the county is back of them, but they are hard to sell because people are investing in other things which net eight and nine per cent."

The city issued street improvement bonds at 6 per cent and sold them at a big premium last spring. It is proposed to issue $600,000 worth of bonds for the new high school at 8 1/2 per cent.

PLAN OFFERED FOR NEW STATE PARK

Would Set Aside for Public Use, Big Hill South of City.

Action toward the establishment of the ninth state owned park at Big Hill on Rock river between Janesville and Beloit has been started. C. L. Harrington, of the state conservation commission made an inspection of the grounds recently at the invitation of State Senator L. E. Cunningham who is interested in the project. Mr. Harrington stated that the price asked for the tract of 37 acres at $20,000 by the owners is too steep as the land where the eight state parks have been established, were given to the state for this purpose. It is evident that the commission will not push the establishment of the park here, but action must be taken by residents of Rock county, and the cities of Beloit and Janesville. Proposed legislation to be enacted at the coming session of the Wisconsin legislature might make it possible through an amendment of the rural planning law that state aid will be given to counties establishing parks, and would make it possible to transform the Big Hill into a park. John Hazelwood, chairman of the state highway commission, has done much to enhance the beauty of Wisconsin parks through the development of them in connection with the highway system. Failure in many cases in the state to establish parks has been because the rural planning committee has been unable to secure financial assistance from the county board to buy tracts.

JANESVILLE WOMEN TO START CAMPAIGN

building could be erected for housing girls, and Miss Roe presented plans for such a building. It would be separate and distinct from the club and general place for the social service work.

No Religious Restriction.
The question of religious affiliation arose. Miss Roe explained that there was no restriction whatever in the membership or the welcome to the association on account of religion affiliation. The Y. W. C. A. was an organization originally as separate local institutions with local support. Later it was found that there was strength in administration in joining interests. Out of it arose the National organization. A national board made up by election each two years at a convention of delegates from the local branches, was the governing body. Each local body is governed by a board of directors. To be eligible to vote for members of the board, the voting elector is required to be a member of one of the Federal Council of churches. Those who are not members may serve on the board, be members of committees and in all other ways participate in all activities.

Wide Privileges for Girls.
"It is not necessary to be a member of the association to have all privileges, the social entertainments, the class instruction or to receive the full benefit of everything the association could do." In fact, Miss Roe stated, a small membership could be made as active and as useful so long as the program of the open door was a part of the association plan as a larger one. The fact that there was no fee, that every girl was welcomed, that there was no caste and once within the rooms all were equal, was the largest thing about the plan.

Open Campaign in January.
Miss Mary Barker presided. Representatives of the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, the City Federation of Women's Clubs were present. Miss Roe stated she would return to Janesville on or about the 6th of January to start the work. A committee of 30 women will be in charge of the solicitation of the budget fund and the work of the organization under the direction of Miss Roe. The vote of the committees was to endorse the plan, and wish the women on the best of success in the campaign for the association service and establishment.

BOARD PREPARES MILK ORDINANCE

Important Meeting of City Health Heads Scheduled for Next Week.

An ordinance to regulate the handling and sale of milk in Janesville will be drawn up at an open meeting of the city board of health to be held in the municipal court room at the city hall, at 8 p. m., Thursday, December 16. The ordinance will then be presented to the council with an urgent request for early passage.

The ordinance is aimed at men who are bringing milk into Janesville from unscrupulous sources without being pasteurized before consumption. It will have but slight effect upon the local milk distributing companies, as each has a pasteurization system that purifies the milk, it was explained by Dr. L. J. Woodworth, sanitary inspector.

"Milk is the greatest food known, containing potentially all the necessary food ingredients," said Mr. Woodworth today, "and yet potentially it is the greatest cause of death. A score of diseases can be carried by milk if care is not taken. The idea of the milk ordinance is to prevent farmers from bringing milk into Janesville without it being pasteurized. This is being done to some extent now, one or two eating places getting a portion of their milk supply from outside the city, but not certified. This is dangerous to the public."

The meeting will be open to the public. The ordinance to attend.

INJUNCTION AGAINST RAIL RAISE FIGHT CALLED OUTRAGE

"If the railroads doing business in Wisconsin can get away with their injunction holding the railroad commission of the state from fighting the increase in passenger fares from 3 cents to 3.6 cents a mile, it will be an outrage," said Mr. J. C. Scherer, a member of the commission, when interviewed after an address, delivered at the Rotary club here today.

"The railroad commission of Wisconsin thought that it had jurisdiction over railroads in the state," said Mr. Scherer, "but evidently from the action of the interstate commerce commission, we have not. Whether the railroads will be successful depends upon the decision of federal judges, when the matter is finally brought to trial."

In his talk before the Rotarians, the commissioner related the history of the commission and its duties. It has under its jurisdiction 8,000 miles of railways, 317 electric companies, 38 gas companies, 251 water companies, 25 telephone companies, 25 street railways, 12 central heating companies and eight toll bridges. He stated that the increase in investment in public utilities has been over 100 per cent, while the rate of return has decreased from an average of 5 1/2 per cent to 4 1/2 per cent annually.

Formal cases for investigation, he said, have increased 150 per cent in two years while the cases undecided have increased 10 per cent. In 1919, he illustrated, there were 466 cases set for hearing, while for last October alone there were 93, an average of 1000 yearly.

ANOTHER HOLD-UP? POLICE THINK NOT

Claiming to have been held up and robbed of $85 on South Franklin street last night, Michael McCluskey called at the police station today. Despite Chief McGee's assurances that the "holdup" was nothing more or less than a trap game, McCluskey stuck to his story, furnishing a description of his two assailants. He left the station upon his promise to pay back $50 to his brother-in-law which he had given him in the afternoon to pay the rent.

LAWYERS APPROVE CITY'S BOND ISSUE

Approval of the $600,000 high school bonding ordinance which it is proposed to introduce at the council meeting next Monday night was given in Chicago yesterday by the law firm of Chapman, Cutler & Parker. A transcript of the high school site bond issue was sent over together with plans for the new issue. City Attorney Roger G. Cunningham and City Clerk E. J. Sartell, who conferred with the attorneys, returned at 11:20 a. m. today.

OFFER $50 REWARD FOR AUTO RECOVERY

Fifty persons containing descriptions of the Ford sedan of Orville S. Morse, together with news of a $50 reward for its return, were sent out by the police department yesterday. The car was stolen Saturday. Nothing further has been heard from it.

ROCK COUNTY FIFTH IN NEAR EAST FUND

John Gross and Rev. J. A. Melrose represented Janesville at the Wisconsin state conference for 1920 of Near East relief, which was held at the Hotel Pastor, Milwaukee, Tuesday.

Many prominent speakers were present and made reports on the work which has been done in assisting Armenia during the past year. Frank Conner, recently returned from the Near East, Rev. Isaac Yonan, food administrator of Persia, Dr. Frank Gannicus of Chicago, were among the speakers.

Resolutions were passed requesting congress to give assistance to Armenia and protect the 500 Armenian missionaries and whose lives are endangered daily.

Reports from Wisconsin commission of which James W. Thompson is director, showed that $40,000 had been used and $60,000 more pledged.

Rock county was fifth in the state in the amount of money raised for relief in the last year with about $15,000 to its credit, $6,000 of which was subscribed by Janesville. Rev. Noble was county chairman and John Whitbread was on the state committee. John Gross was secretary for this part of the county in the last campaign.

WILL MEET AGAIN TO PLAN CAMPAIGN

With more than $3,000 already pledged toward the $17,000 proposed stock sales pavilion for breeders of Rock county, members of the joint breeders and Chamber of Commerce committee will hold another meeting this week to set the details of the campaign. Plans for the county fair for the financing of the project will be done by selling stock in the Janesville Park association at $100 a share to the party giving the ground free to the breeders for a site.

HAMON GIRL'S TRAIL LEADS TO MEXICO

Hamon, widow of the millionaire, was paid $1,000 a month by her husband to live in Chicago.

Frank Hamon, according to the interview, "disappeared five weeks before the death of his uncle, after having declared he was going to see the millionaire and 'have it out with him.'"

Hamon Marries Second Wife.

The Examiner, quoting Mrs. Hamon, said further: "Hamon in Tucson, Ariz., August 14, 1918. He was my having married Frank."

"Prior to coming to live with us, Frank's mother visited Jake Hamon and Clara Smith Hamon in Oklahoma City. She said Jake wanted her to remain with them as housekeeper."

"In August 1919 my husband went to Ardmore and Jake gave him a job in the oil fields. He wrote me to join him but when Jake heard I was coming he told him, so Frank says, to 'clear out and never come here with that woman.' Later Frank told me Clara Smith was receiving mail under my name and was using it to avoid suspicion and that a second Mrs. Frank Hamon in the community might cause trouble."

"Shortly afterward my husband's mother bought the St. Elmo ranch near Vacaville and I came here to live with Frank's brother, Raymond and his wife."

"To Wed Rich Woman."

"Frank came to me one day in October and told me he was going away to marry a rich woman and he wished I would 'find somebody else.'"

"The very rich woman was Clara. I learned. He disappeared and the next I heard was that Jake had been murdered and Clara had disappeared. Frank is still missing."

"As for Clara Hamon, she was angry, I know, because Jake Hamon had neglected her while his wife was in Ardmore last summer. About this time she came to Tucson and visited us for a short while. She was a pretty woman. She showed plainly she was dissatisfied with her life. One day she showed me a pistol in her grip and told me she kept it 'for protection.'"

"In Tucson, Frank's mother, Mrs. B. Hamon, lived at our home. She loved her as my own mother, but she appeared to resent

my having married Frank."

A SWEETHEART AT THIRTY

The Story of a Woman's Transformation
BY MARION RUBINCAM

CHAPTER XV VTS AFFAIR

Was it any wonder I felt depressed? After all, what did life hold, directly for me? I was old, they told me, and I was worse than that. I was an old maid. All men had passed me by, none had wanted me. Yet deep in my soul was something, I could not tell what, that wanted love, that demanded protection and tenderness.

I know now that as long as a woman honestly wants love, she is not hopeless. In love, one must give as well as take. Some women may marry again and again, and not know love; and some may live and die "old maids"—and to most mothers to other women's children.

Vaguely I began to know all I had missed. Definitely, I felt its absence, and that it would never come to me. What was this thing—Romance? That was its name, perhaps. The spirit of it was around me—in the warm and fragrant air blowing in from the fields, in the faint murmur of the summer night.

On the porch Laura and Charlie sat among the shadows. They were close. I knew they must be, for she would not let him go. Around her waist, plainly, I was not wanted here. So, with a word that the rest were walking over, I went into the house.

That was romance—to Laura at least. To sit in the best parlor or out on the porch with one of the boys, to hold hands and be kissed occasionally. Laura was in love with Charlie. I suspected she was in love with anyone who would give her attention. In love with love, and Charlie was devoted.

Was that romance? Was that what I wanted? I knew it wasn't. Somehow it seemed silly to me and without glamor. To have my hand held—"You're an old woman," I said to myself suddenly. "Remember what Father said—there's no fool like an old fool!"

I went up to my room to take off my dress. Some odds and ends of work remained to be done, and I took my old house dress from its nail on the closet door. As I started downstairs I passed Mrs. room, and looked in. She was sitting on her bed, poring over the pages of a letter.

She looked up, hiding her letter; then she smiled and called me in. "It's a letter from Bud," she said, closing her door. "I told him to write care of Margaret, and she let me before the exercises began."

"But you shouldn't do that," I protested. "That's deceiving your mother."

"Mother wouldn't understand," I answered. "She doesn't like Bud because he said things about Henry. She doesn't like the city to get work. She doesn't like the Bears. In the letter she shouldn't see, only she's so unsympathetic. You're much more my mother than she is. I felt a warm glow tingling all over me."

"I'd let him write to me here if she wouldn't scold about my 'notions' or if Laura wouldn't look into it," she said. "Besides, it's silly. I'm deceiving if I show it to you."

She held out the pages, but I shook my head. I did not know what to do with this girl, but I knew how to tell her not to restrain her. To let her follow her own instincts and she would be all right. "This is the first letter since he left," I said. "He's not going to write now, 'nobody else' she went on. "He said he wasn't going to write now, 'nobody else' she went on. "He said he wasn't going to write now, 'nobody else' she went on.

The girls mother probably wanted to meet you before she let her daughter go anywhere with you. The next time you see the girl ask her if you can call on her at her home. Do not refer to the time she did not meet you. When you ask to take a girl somewhere you should call for her at her home and not expect her parents will object. Naturally her parents would object to you because you work at the new but if they met you and liked you personally.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, In Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl seventeen and in my junior year at high school. I have known a boy for about ten years and have gone with him off and on for the last two years. I know that this boy thinks a great deal of me, although he has never exactly told me so. Every action shows that he does.

Everyone knows how he feels about it and everyone for miles around looks upon me as his future wife. This is very annoying. Although I think more of this boy than any I have met and value him as a dear friend, yet I do not love him. For certain reasons I can never marry him.

Would you advise me to quit going with him now before I learn to love him, or would it be all right to keep on going with him? I should hate to deceive him, as he is too good a boy for that.

How can I get better acquainted with the boys at school? The girls all treat me very nicely, but there are no boys around, but as soon as boys come around they will not speak to me first. I do not care to go with these boys, but I just want to be on friendly terms with them.

DAILY READER.
At the age of nineteen you need not give up a friend who has not mentioned love simply because you feel you could never marry him. Do not assume any deeper relationship than that of friendship. When the time comes that the boy mentions love, tell him the truth. The truth would hurt him, but it is his human nature to get over such disappointments and to learn to care for someone else.

Probably you are super-sensitive. Impression that you are not friendly. Speak to the boys as cordially as you would to the girls. When you meet them half way, I believe, you will find that they like you better and are more cordial to you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I met a young lady at a dance and I liked her better than the others whom I met. I am a stranger in town. She seemed to like me in my company, and I asked her if I could escort her home. She said I might.

On the way home she asked me where I came from and her true opinion was. I told her the truth. Then she said that she met a young man before who was working at the new plant and her mother objected to her going out with him.

I asked her to go to the show one evening and she said she would.

WHAT SHALL I DO?

Answered by VIRGINIA PAGE

Making Pleasure Possible
"Dear Miss Page—My husband and I have had quite an argument. Will you please tell us which is right. We were invited to a neighbor's to spend the evening, and when we went over we found some others there and they insisted we play cards. Now, our neighbors know that we do not play cards and it was a most embarrassing evening because they insisted that we try anyway. My husband says it was all right, that we ought not to go out if we can't do the things other people do. But I say that our neighbors ought not to have invited us if they wanted to play cards."

"I find it very interesting and pleasant to assist my better friends in their social and social conduct, but there are two things I dread to be asked to do—first, to be asked to be a hostess, and between a mother and daughter. It is both embarrassing and apt to be dangerous!"

"However, in this case I must say I think you are quite right. Your hostess was very impolite to place you in such an embarrassing position. The first duty of a successful hostess is that she knows her guests, invite them in such groups that they can understand and enjoy one another, and in so far as possible, provide them with entertainment to their liking."

Colors in Stationery
"Dear Miss Page: I'm going to ask my brother to give me some nice stationery for Christmas. What color do you like best?"—Sis."

My personal preference is always for pure white letter paper. It is perfectly correct, however, to use pale blue, gray or tan if you like. Other shades are fads of the moment from time to time, but the more fastidious people do not go in for fads in their stationery."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions. The Editor.

Helpful Hints
Never use an oil mop on a painted floor. Bad springs painted with aluminum paint will not rust. Paint can be removed from the hands by rubbing with kerosene. Wash corn brooms in hot soap suds, shake well and hang up to dry. A 10 cent curry comb is a good thing to take hair and threads out of the brush of the carpet sweeper.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR TESSIE:

You seem to have a gift for getting hold of the wrong nurse-girls. From your descriptive matter of how you present specimen trips over everything around the house I judge that she don't belong to the non-skid variety. Of course I realize good nurse-girls are hard to find and perhaps they are even things of the past, but even so I wouldn't advise you to stand for too much of her skidding, especially when the baby happens to be a passenger at the time.

Of course she might fail with the baby without doing him any harm as you say. The reason for that is that babies are already so close to nature that even when they are brought into more violent contact they don't as a rule take it very hard. But accidents will happen with the best regulated babies and I wouldn't like to think that my particular baby is being subjected to too many demonstrations of this great natural law.

And besides that, the nurse-girl might just happen to break her own leg in one of her skids when she's a little out of practice or tired or something and thus put you to a lot of inconvenience. So if I were you I'd just speak to her nicely on the subject a few times and ask her to please try to concentrate on her feet as much as possible when she's in a walking position, and if she still persists in skidding why simply tie the can to her and gently but firmly ease her out into the cold cruel world. We must carry out nature's laws, and in the survival of the fittest the skidders must blend into the background.

A sudden thought that worries me is that perhaps some of her skidding may be due to the fact that she has discovered my private stock, although I don't see how she could unless you so far forgot yourself as to point it out to her and tell her to dust it or something of that sort. But I'd hate to think that any wife of mine ever forgot the use of her bean to that extent, so I'll just banish the thought and hope and pray that all is well.

Well, don't take any wooden money and don't give out too much of the regular kind. Kind love, JOE.

A New Cure for Hiccoughs.

In one of the serious paragraphs in the amusing "Humours of a Parish" by the Rev. W. B. Money, the author passes on an "infallible" cure for hiccoughs. "Laugh as much as you like," he says "but try it the next time you are in the grasp of hiccups. Take a tumbler and fill it about half full of water, put your lips to the opposite side of the rim (ie. what you ordinarily would be drinking) tilt the glass away from you instead of towards you, and so sip the water. That is all, but you will want nothing more."

"Show Me Your Hands"—

said the wise Woman-Who-Knows, "and I will tell you how old you are, and how hard you work!" Hands age quickly if they are not well cared for. And rough, work-hardened hands go ill with a soft gown or trim suit.

That's why Delicene is indispensable to the woman who is well groomed. It protects the skin—keeps it fresh and healthy, and whisks away blemishes and marks. It's soothing and healing, with a delightfully clean fragrance.

Try using some after you wash your hands. It rubs in, and leaves no stickiness and greasiness.

Have him try some after shaving

H. S. Juniors Swamp Frosh; Seniors Meet Sophs Today

HAGER IN BED; JUNIORS SHOW TIP-TOP CLASS

TODAY'S LINEUPS
 Seniors: McCluskey
 Smith D. Dawson
 Tinsford Rasmussen

 Newman P. Sheridan
 Subs-Seniors: Smith, A. Benni-son, Griffoer, R. Bliss, Palmer; sophomores: Boyer, Beninson, Austin, Meak and Seaman.

Juniors Win, 50 to 6.
 Janesville high school's junior class basketball team was too much for the freshmen Tuesday afternoon, the third classroom smashing the smaller fellows for a score of 50 to 6. After the game the seniors and sophomores clash at the high school gym at 4:15, the winner to meet the juniors Thursday for the championship of the school.

While the frosh displayed fighting qualities and worked hard against the heavier juniors, their attacks were useless. The juniors played a classy team combination that would have made a much stronger team for the frosh.

White, Crowley, Gridley and McDermott kept up an excellent passing game. Lane and Kelly put the clamps on the frosh. Gridley and Crowley got nine field goals each and McDermott, six. McDermott is a coming basket star, already showing a finished, fast passing style.

For the freshmen, Clark played the gamut but needs lots of time before he shows. Kelly, perhaps, would have worked better in a different aggregation; he had no chance to show his wares.

Who Wins Today?
 With Hager out of the senior line-up because illness confines him to bed, the outlook for this afternoon's battle has changed. For one seems to be slanting toward the sophomores, but indications are for a real fight. Whichever team wins, they will have a tough job on their hands when they meet the juniors Thursday.

MONROE HAS TEN GAMES ON SCHEDULE
 Monroe, Dec. 8.—Monroe high school basketball schedule beginning with the game here with Orangeville Friday night, calls for a series of ten games which will keep the team busy till the conference series open. The game Friday will be the double-header girls team, just organized, having matched a game with the Orangeville girls for that night. There are several open dates on the schedule but those will be filled within the next few weeks.

The schedule as it stands at the present time follows:
 Dec. 17—Monticello at Monticello.
 Jan. 7—Open.
 Jan. 14—Monticello at Monroe.
 Jan. 21—Janesville at Monroe.
 Jan. 28—Mineral Point at Monroe.
 Feb. 4—Open.
 Feb. 11—Orangeville at Orangeville.
 Feb. 18—Warren, Ill., at Warren.
 Feb. 25—Mineral Point at Mineral Point.

PLANNING AMATEUR BILLIARD MEET HERE
 With interest growing in three cushion billiards here, a tournament is scheduled for the near future at the Club Billiard hall. Prizes will be given the winners. This hall has been the largest aggregation of amateur three cushion players in the city. During three recent matches between Paul Denning and Dick Cushing, who pair up in match games, against Robert and McGinley, the latter hold two games, while Denning and Cushing have one. Denning has high run of six.

Any amateur three cushion billiard players desiring to enter the tournament will be eligible.

TENDLER ASKS $12,000; MATCH IS CANCELLED
 Milwaukee, Dec. 8.—The proposed bout here December 14 between Leo Tandler, of Philadelphia, and Edw. Fitzsimmons, of New York, was cancelled today by promoter Mulken, when Tandler demanded $12,000 for his share of the show.

BASEBALL TIPS
 Milwaukee.—Schalk, a pitcher, and O'Mellilo, an outfielder, both youngsters from the Canadian league, will be tried out by the Milwaukee American association team next spring.

Boston.—The training season for the Boston Red Sox in 1921 will be cut to three weeks instead of the customary month or six weeks, according to Manager Duffy. Last year the team made a 2,000 mile trip with the Giants after the training at the springs was over and returned to the Hub a tired lot of ball players.

According to official attendance figures just released by T. J. Hickey, president, American Association, Milwaukee's 1920 attendance record at athletic park was 201,332. Toledo led "at-home" attendance, having played to 247,118 cash customers. St. Paul second, 229,355; Minneapolis, third, 223,671; Milwaukee, fourth, 201,332; Indianapolis, fifth, 143,569; Louisville, sixth, 125,701; Kansas City, seventh, 119,179; Columbus, eighth, 109,596.

MILTON DOWNED 28-20 BY RIFON IN FIRST BASKETBALL GAME

Ripon, Wis., Dec. 8.—In a game devoid of real basketball and showing a lack of experience and practice, Ripon college scored a victory in the first game of the season here on Tuesday night, over Milton college, 28 to 20.

Push at right forward, a new comer on the Ripon squad, displayed spurs of mid-season form and was easily the star of the contest. Bush scored twelve of the Ripon points, while Captain Schneider playing a guard position scored ten. Oldiey at center for Milton college also showed signs of excellency and scored twelve of his team's twenty points.

They Disagree

Editor Gazette: We wish to correct the statements made by the "Y" All Stars in your Monday's edition. It is very true that the seniors, Tigers, outweighted, outplayed and outclassed the All Stars, but the game was not played in a tobacco shed, but was played in a renovated factory building with a floor space of 40x70, and as far as the beams were concerned, the All Stars could not throw the ball high enough to reach them.

And if Hager was a sick man the rest of the boys were badly in need of a rest, as Hager was the fastest man on the All Star team. We will admit the boys were a fast, clean and sportsmanlike bunch, but as was said before, they were outclassed.

The correct score was 53 to 16 in the Tigers' favor. The Tigers played their subs throughout the entire game.

BROOKLYN TIGERS.
 Sporting Editor's Note: Hager, whom the Tigers doubt was sick Saturday night, is at present confined to his bed, and is under a doctor's care. Investigation reveals that he left his bed at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in order to play the game. Score mentioned by the Stars was 52 to 18, which might easily have been a mistake in scoring.

U. W. CLEARS $84,500 ON SEASON'S FOOTBALL
 Madison, Dec. 8.—Financial success attended the University of Wisconsin in its football season this year, according to figures made public recently. A total of $84,500 was the net gain of the season. The receipts of $105,500 were paid in by 105,500 spectators who saw the team in action at five conference games, the figures show. More than half of this amount is clear gain, the athletic department announces.

FIGHT DECISIONS
 Green Bay, Wis., Dec. 8.—George (Stranger) Hill defeated Leo Alexander, light-heavyweight champion, here last night in two straight falls. The first fall came after 22 minutes of wrestling and the second in 12 minutes 20 seconds. Hill issued a challenge to Carl Zoll, local wrestler.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 14-GAME BASKET SCHEDULE PLANNED

Beloit high school is back on the Janesville high school schedule after a lapse of a year. Tentative dates are now being worked out for two games in February between the teams of the neighboring cities.

Fourteen dates are on the local school's schedule, making it one of the longest in years. This is not going to prove any hardships on the boys, according to Coach Keynor, because there is so much material in the school that it is hoped to be able to organize two first teams. In this event when two games come on succeeding days, the teams will switch off.

Material Is Snappy.
 No wonderful hopes are held up this year with only one letter man back. However, what has been seen of the boys in interclass practice and games, the material looks snappy, though lacking in experience.

The Monroe game this year will be played at the Green county city. The schedule now stands five of the games will be played here. There are four open dates.

Double headers will be a feature this year with Edgerton. First and second teams of each school will put on the battles.

First Game Dec. 17.
 First game will come on December 17, when the Delavan Institute for the Deaf takes on Monroe. The final game is set as an open date on March 28.

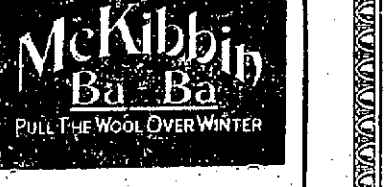

The schedule:
 Dec. 17—State Institute for Deaf, here.
 Jan. 7—Edgerton, there. (first and second teams).
 Jan. 14—University High, Madison, here.
 Jan. 21—Monroe, there.
 Jan. 28—Union High, Milton, there. (Week of rest for examinations).
 Feb. 4—Edgerton, here. (first and second teams).
 Feb. 11—Open.

TWILIGHTS TACKLE MONROE BASKETBALL CLUB THERE FRIDAY

Coming along and taking the limelight in basketball circles, a local team which will run under the name of the Janesville Twilights is starting out to conquer clubs in surrounding cities. Friday of this week the aggregation will play the newly formed Badger club of Monroe at that place. On Saturday they will tackle the Higers of Brooklyn.

Among the members of the team are Hemming, Richards, Kober, Bigelow, Ryan, Cassidy, and Field. Friday they tackle a bunch of old Monroe high school and American legion stars, including Carr, Wood, Collentine, Stauffacher, Gibbons, Ischody, Roth, Wagner and Haru, captain. The Monroe team has a healthy schedule, including games with the Beloit Fairies, Cheyenne Indians and New York Nationals. This promises a big basket season for the fans of that town. Games are played at the armory.

Warm—watertight—cleaned in a minute

The three big points which make the "U. S." Walrus so popular

HERE is the overshoe that combines all the qualities you've always wanted! Look it over—it's the U. S. Walrus.

It's an all-rubber overshoe that's absolutely waterproof. It has a warm, snug-fitting fleece lining. It's convenient because you slip it right over your leather shoe—and push it off with your toe when you're through.

Best of all, the U. S. Walrus can be instantly cleaned. You can work for hours in barnyard mire—then a pail of water or a rinse at the pump washes the U. S. Walrus clean—removes every trace of mud from its smooth rubber surface.

Experts have designed it—have made it an overshoe that will stand the roughest wear. At every single point where the wear is hardest, the U. S. Walrus is heavily reinforced.

Ask your dealer to show you a pair!

The U. S. line of footwear has a type for every need—arctics, rubbers, "overs." Every one is backed by over half a century of experience. The rubber comes from our own plantations—the whole process of manufacture is supervised by experts.
